Case No. 12-12020-MG

Chapter 11

Jointly Administered

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION AND/OR CLARIFICATION OF RULING
RE MOTION TO STRIKE OCWEN'S MOTION TO QUASH SUBPOENA

TO THE HONORABLE MARTIN GLENN UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

ERLINDA ABIBAS ANIEL, Pro Se, respectfully moves for reconsideration of the ruling of this Honorable Court denying her motion to strike Ocwen's motion to quash subpoena allegedly "for the reasons stated in the record at the Hearing." Order dated January 28, 2016. Her denied motion to strike is based solely on the lack of legal standing of Ocwen to intervene in this proceeding for the reason that it lacks any proprietary and/or financial or other legal and equitable interest to protect in reference to the deposition that Ms. Mira Smoot shall make (pursuant to the subpoena issued to her). Simply stated, she is asking this Honorable Court to prevent the intervention of Ocwen in this proceeding in the form of its filing to quash subpoena (even though admittedly Ms. Smoot is currently its employee) for the reason of lack of legal and equitable standing.

For the purpose of this instant motion and to prove its lack of standing, she is herewith attaching a registered public record/document styled Mortgage Interest Statement substitute form 1098 filed by Ocwen with the Department of the Treasury - Internal Revenue Service (IRS) covering its reporting year 2013 that clearly and indisputably shows that her transaction, if any, with Ocwen in respect to her securitized loan mortgage has been fully paid with zero balance - the document speaks for itself.

The motion to strike she filed is solely intended to bar Ocwen from confusing the records by preventing an unnecessary party to intervene.

On the basis of the foregoing exposition, there is necessity for reconsideration and setting aside of this Honorable Court order denying her motion to strike. Anyway, she could not exactly recall the reasons given by the Honorable Court at the hearing of her motion to strike as stated in the records and clarification of the said ruling is necessary to dispel any misgiving she has.

Respectfully,
